

NIAGARA FRONTIER
SERVICES OFFICE BUILDING

Buffalo, New York

Owner / Client: Niagara Frontier Services

Area: 25,000 square feet

Cost: NA

When Niagara Frontier Services decided to remodel their Corporate Headquarters, they naturally turned to TRM Architect, with whom they had had an enduring and mutually beneficial relationship.

The office, located on Dingens Street in the city of Buffalo, New York, accommodates NFS's changing needs, increased office space requirements, as well as an employee cafeteria. In recognition of the tendency for offices to undergo reorganizations and personnel shifts as well as the need to keep up with rapidly changing technology, the resulting renovation was kept sufficiently flexible to allow for changes as they arise.

The 25,000 square foot interior renovation encompassed several types of office space, including executive, legal, loss prevention, and graphic departments and work areas. TRM ensured the spaces were bright through the use of natural light to facilitate a positive working environment, while also providing a floor plan facilitating the traffic flow inherent to a busy office.

Special attention was also given to ensuring employee comfort through appropriate climate control and office layout.

"We have the highest regards for Tom [Moscati], his professional ability, and his staff at TRM Architect. His personal concern and outstanding service for all our needs, merits our highest praise."
Savino P. Nanula, President & Armand J. Castellani, Chairman of the Board, Niagara Frontier Services, Inc.

